Technology has revolutionised the way we work...

But when it fails, your team stops dead. We take the hassle out of IT support so you can get back to doing what you do best.

But does your business really need IT Support ?

If your businesses relies on any of these

- Emails
- The internet
- The cloud
- Key pieces of software

The answer is YES!

Here's a few reasons why

01

Prevent Downtime

You're only making money while you're working

By proactively monitoring your systems, we fix issues before you even notice

02

Maintain Security

Cyber attacks are becoming more common

We monitor your network remotely to keep ahead of the hackers

03

Improve Productivity

Do you have the in-house capability to make strategic IT decisions

Our IT Support contracts come with support and advice to help you make the right IT decisions

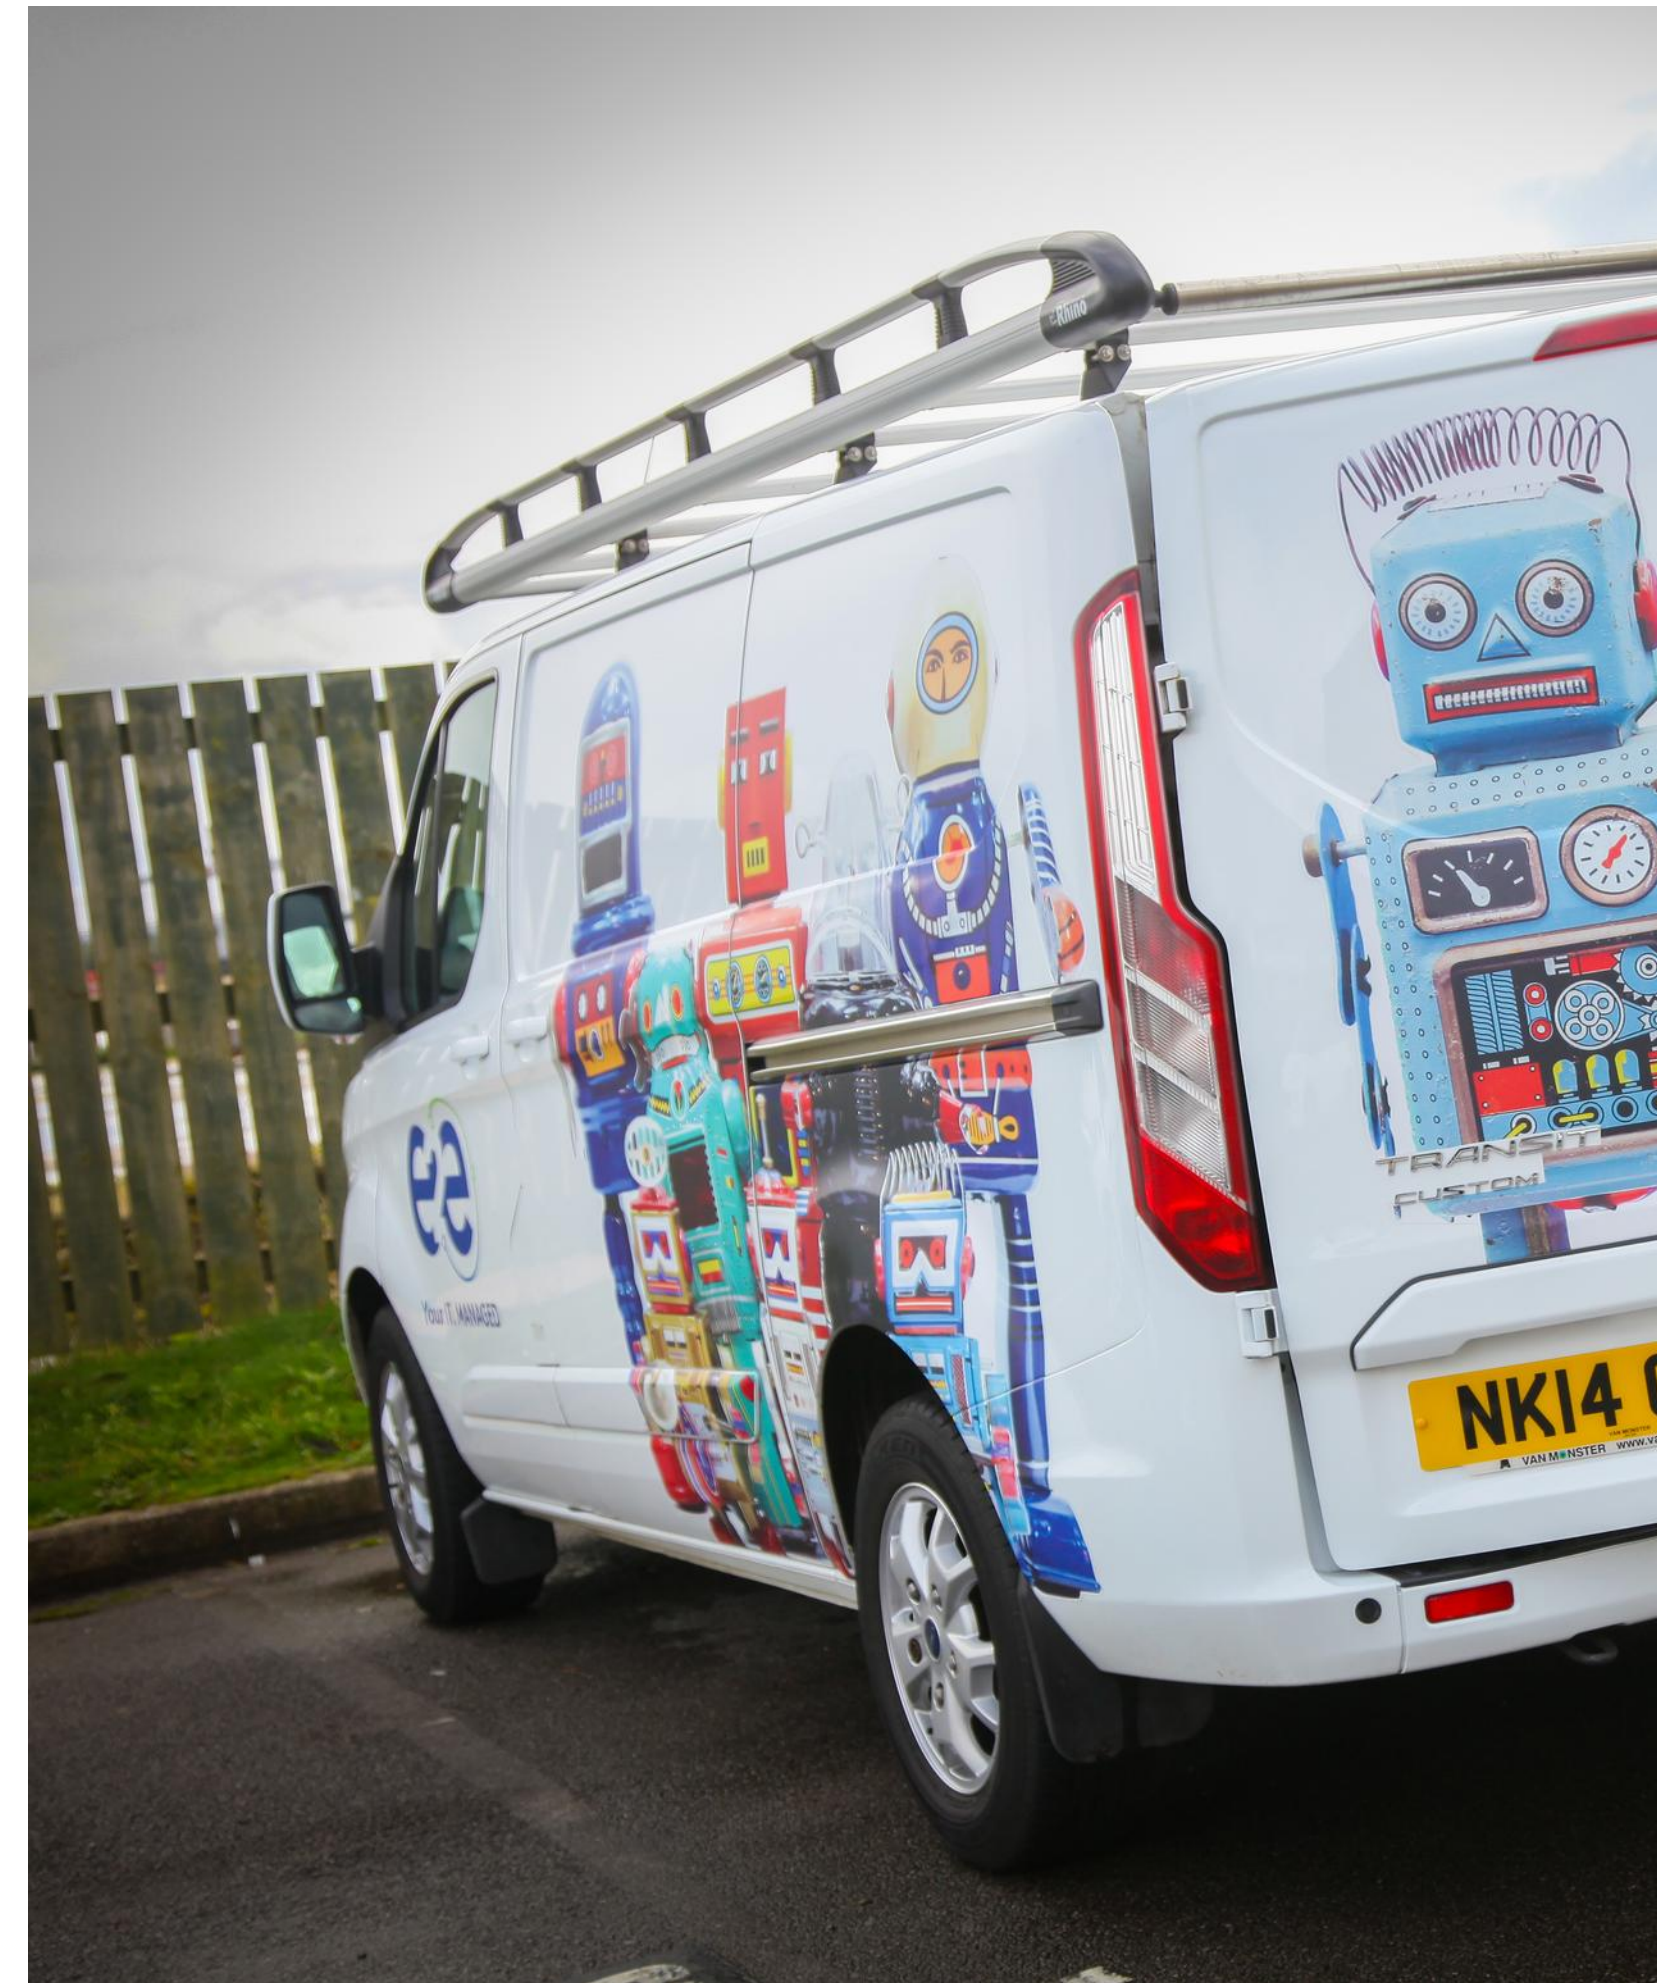

Types of IT Support

Managed IT Support

We become your IT department, providing a level of support and expertise that exceeds most in-house IT managers. We handle everything and keep your systems running smoothly.

Complementary IT Support

We work with your in-house IT department, providing additional resource and expertise on demand. we can provide this type of support on an ad-hoc (perhaps as part of a specific project) or an ongoing basis.

What does Managed IT Support Cover?

Remote monitoring of your infrastructure 24/7

Proactively maintaining your systems, spotting issues before they occur

Keeping all of your systems up to date, installing updates and patches automatically at a time to suit

Providing expert and strategic advice as to how you can make the most of your IT, now and in the future.

Responding quickly and efficiently to any problems that do arise, be that by phone, email or in person at your premises
